1. ISSUES WITH THE CURRENT NCDD WEBSITE

• The website load is too long

• The website is not responsive which cannot be viewed via smart phone

• There is too much information on homepage and it's not well defined or user friendly

• There is some outdated information

• Too many sections and categories that should be merged

• Lack of good visuals such as pictures and graphs

• Many broken links (Error links and document downloading)

• Lack of communication tools such as subscribe to newsletter and enquiry form to each division

• Lack of tools for promoting content to the social media

• Lack of search tool for the documents and resources finding

• Khmer and English languages are mixing

• The website technology is outdated

2. PROPOSED CHANGES

• Simplify the new NCDD website structure and design

• Reduce and redesign menu display system

• The banner should be nice images or visual design to highlight the important message...

• Working with the information office to replace the outdated information

• Assigned key persons from library to work together with consultant to fix error documents

• Create subscribe to newsletter platform so the audience can reach out the latest information or documents when it is available on the website

• Create enquiry from to facilitate visitors to contact a specific department

• Embed social media sharing on pages and news detail

• Create search tool so the visitors can find documents easily by name or number

• Separate completely the language system

Stakeholder Presentation on Proposed Initiatives for Sub-National Climate Change Adaptation Financing

Published on Wednesday, 02 March 2016

Phnom Penh, 29th February 2016: Cambodia is one of the first countries to Pilot LoCAL mechanism. The Local Govern-met Climate Change (LGCC) was designed to support the capacity of the LoCal Governent to implement the Climate Change Adaptation to increase the resilience at the local level. As the result of the phase I and the phase II of the project with the support from EU GCCA and SIDA, LGCC has demostrated that the Peformance Based Grant Mechanism (PBCRG) has inrease the government capacity to produce the local infrastructure which contributed to increase the resilence of their commuity to the climate change effect in their area.

Wiith 5 years experiences in implementing the programme, LGCC has imaproved the mechnism and improved the capacity of the local government, at the same time it also infuenced the policy in maistreaming CCA into the local govern-ment planning and also the role of local government in implementing the CCA. The new guideline of the local govenr-ment plannig was approved in the begining of the year where the CC intervention will be a part of the normal develop-ment planning.

Currently , LoCAL/LGCC is entering the phase III of its implementation where the national goverment will access the resources (climate finance) directly and chanele it to their local covenment. At this phase the sustainability of the programme will start, where the mechanism introduce to the project will be adopted and inplement by the government to sclae up the programm to all LGs especialy the one whi h more vulnerable to the climate change.

NCDDS as the implementing partner of the   prkgramme has been nominated by the Cambodian government to be the first National Implementing Entities (NIE) for Green Climate Fund (GCF) to apl,y for the GCF direct access to scale up the LGCC programme to more local governmet. NCDD has been registerd as the candiate NIE and the draft proposal for the GCF Enhance Direct Access has been developed.

A workshop to facilitate a wide consultation of the proposal has been conducted at NCDD Secretariat, with 40 partici-pants from Department of Climate Change, NCDS, CCCA, MoE, MEF, UNCDF, UNDP, SIDA, WB, ADB, SDC, Battambang Administration, Takeo Administration, National Committee for Local Councilor and NCDD Secretariat teams. The meeting was chaired by H.E. Ngan Chamroeun, Deputy Executive Head of NCDDS.

LASED (WB)

Introduction

1.1 The Land Allocation for Social and Economic Development Project (LASED) is a project to support the implementation of the Royal Government's Social Land Concessions (SLC) Program to distribute land to the landless and land-poor through social land concessions to improve livelihood of poor households and vulnerable groups through Commune Based Social Land Concession. LASED Project is implemented by NCDD Secretariat and the General Secretariat for Social Land Concessions (GSSLC) in accordance with provisions of Article IV of the General Conditions incorporated in the Financing Agreement between Kingdom of Cambodia (RGC) and International Development Association (IDA). The project period is five years, July 2008 to June 2013, and project cost is US$ 11.50 million. In addition, LASED has been implementing in Kratie, Kampong Cham and Kampong Thom. The objectives of LASED are to:
Distribute state land suitable for agriculture, together with appropriate support services to qualified landless and land-poor households; and
Introduce and implement a transparent and standardized process for expanded implementation of locally initiated social land concessions.

1.2 Implementation of LASED respects the following principles:
Promote good governance and rule of law;
Support and strengthen the land reform agenda of the Government;
Encourage civic engagement;
Prevent environmental degradation;
Promote transparency and accountability; and
Ensure sustainable growth.

1.3 LASED has three quantitative indicators those guide project performance and provides criteria to assess progress and success of the project.
Numbers of SLC target communes -20,
Numbers of Target Land Recipient (TLRs) who resettle in the SLC - 3000 households, and Size of SLC -10,000 hectors.

1.4 Project activities are divided into four components
First component is related to the commune based social land concession planning and land allocation. This component covers cost of training, incremental operating costs, goods, and contracted technical services to commune councils to prepare plans for SLC sub-projects.
Second component concerns on rural development services and investments. This component is to provide subproject grants for the commune councils, and to cover cost of civil works, goods, technical assistance and training services identified in approved SLC sub-project plans.
